Summer 2012 to Winter 2013. Nope, you didn't miss the Fall issue, there wasn't one. Personal circumstances got in the way (Camporee planning, illnesses, the "joys" of home ownership, etc) kind of got in the way. But at the same time, there wasn't a lot of new items that were issued since NOAC 2012.

The discussed changes in BSA membership policy will not be discussed here.

The 2013 National Scout Jamboree. Once upon a time, not that long ago, councils would have a single shoulder patch for their contingent to the Jamboree. Or a few would have the same design, with different numbers for each troop. Fast-forward to the 21st century, and multiple JSPs for each contingent became the norm. Now, it has become an expectation. Recently at a lodge event, an adult explained to Robert that the council's contingent "had to make such a big contingent collection" (10 JSPs, jacket patch) because without such a multi-piece set, the contingent members would be at a disadvantage with other attendees that had large sets of their own.

Really? An adult that believes that a Scout's Jamboree experience that already costs many Scouts over $1800 would not be complete unless they are able to spend another $50 per set, to trade with other Scouts across the country with a similar set, which is often hyped as being "the cool set that everyone wants", but has little value or meaning six months later? Is Scouting not expensive enough, without creating a demand for additional expenses, so as to keep up with what adults see as a need to keep up with other councils' Jamboree patch sets?

Please, stop.

NOAC 2012: The Year of the Rubber patch. The Conference may be known as the year that a new material became fashionable: rubber. Well, specifically, polyvinyl chloride (PVC, the same stuff that makes water pipes). Occoneechee Lodge 104 had such an item in 2011, but these items became popular when Coosa Lodge 50 created four such Conference flaps, and Wahunsenakah 333 created a "rubber duck" flap (their lodge totem is a duck). Now, Tipisa 326 has its own such piece, and people from across the country are seeking to collect such items.

Since "R" is already used for round patches, and "P" is used for pie-shapes, perhaps the category should be called "PVC"?

BIG THANKS to all of those who assisted with this issue: Rick Obermeyer, Jason Wolz, Chris Colebaugh, Mike Daley and his site, floridacsp.com, Ken Griffin, David Pate, Ken Knaebel, Joe Gonzales, Gary Johnson, and Howard Gross.

NEW ISSUES

(numbering is tentative at this time)

+ Since the last issue, Tipisa 326 has issued the first rubber flap of the state. The “patch” can be worn on the uniform, with the pins on the back. The latest regular issue flap has a variety (S-45b), with a sound chip adhered to the back, that plays the OA song when a button is pressed. One of the chapters of Tipisa have been active in their production; Kikape Chapter has created emblems for Elangomats (X-3; 150 made) and Ceremonies (X-4; 150 made). The year “2010” is on each of the patches, but that is a reference to the year that the chapter was formed. The chapter created another item that commemorates the 500th anniversary of Ponce de Leon’s arrival in Florida (X-5), jointly issued with Nefketeh Chapter (X-1); 300 made.

+ Another lodge with busy chapters is Timuquan 340. The re-arrangement of their chapters down to three led to the re-use of the lodge’s original chapter names, and now a new patch for each (Osceola, X-3; Calusa, X-2; Tocobaga, X-2).

+ Aal-Pa-Tah 237 has issued their obligatory “Best All Around Lodge” flap (S-115).

+ Osceola 564 was the host of the 2012 Section S-4 Seminars in November, and issued only one patch for their role in the event (S-52; 300 made). The design matched the relative plainness of the event’s patch.

+ Echokotee 200 has a new unrestricted trader flap (S-49; 2000 made), with a design that matches their neckerchief emblem.

+ Seminole 85 will be hosting this year’s Section Conference. The first host item was seen at the 2012 Seminars, issued for work at their Service Days (S-65; 300 made?).

+ Reported to have been issued, but not pictured, is the obligatory O-Shot-Caw 265 Lodge Executive Committee flap (S-147?)

But the real activity in the last several months has been with council shoulder patches.

+ North Florida Council created four new shoulder patches in the month of December 2012. Two were issued for the Winter Blast long-term camping event; one for attendees (with snow flake on the left side), the other for staff (palm tree on the left). Right before Winter Blast, two CSPs were created for fundraising for the council’s capital campaign fund. The two have the same design, with GRN and GMY borders, and the design is that of the Camp Shands Chapel, rendered in a sublimation process. These two CSPs were sold alongside a matching pocket patch.

+ Central Florida Council issued a CSP to commemorate the 25th annual Sunshine Trade-O-Ree, in 2013. The CSP itself was issued in 2012.

+ Gulf Stream Council released their 2012 FOS CSP, the 11th in their “Scout Law” series (“CLEAN”).

With the National Scout Jamboree to take place in 2013, Central Florida and North Florida Councils have issued Jamboree sets in 2012. Each council’s set has JSPs that ring around a central jacket patch. The Central Florida set has nine JSPs, with a space exploration theme, while the North Florida set has ten JSPs, with eight and the jacket patch with a pirate theme.

THE RUMOR MILL

* Besides all of the host items to be issued by Seminole 85 for their Section Conference...

* and all of the council contingent sets to be issued for the 2013 National Scout Jamboree...

* and the National Jamboree flaps to be made by almost all of the lodges in Florida...

* Echockotee 200 will have a new Elangomat patch. Same design a P-5 and P-6, with the words ELANGOMAT SERVICE BSA rendered in RED thread. Less definite are items to be created to finance the lodge's commitment to raise $50,000 for North Florida Council's Capital Campaign fund, to finance improvements at Camp Shands.

notes & asides

- The theme for the 2013 activity patch series for Echockotee 200 is "High Adventure", to depict each of the BSA bases, and the OA High Adventure programs.

- The theme for the 2013 Aal-Pa-Tah 237 series is "Legends Of The Loxahatchee". The series includes four weekend patches, a year patch, and a 2013 Fast Pass patch.

- At the 2012 Section Seminars patch auction, there was an item available that had been issued three years before, but not pictured, or publicized. Seems that in 2009, Seminole 85 created two items to commemorate their victory at that year's National Conference Ceremonial competition. Neither had been reported. The version with the GMY border and letters (X-9.1) was sold at the auction for $42, with less than 100 reported to have been produced. Even fewer were reported to have been made with SMY border and letters.

- Just north of the Florida line, Alapaha Council and Chehaw Council merged, as of January 1, 2013, to form South Georgia Council. The two lodges (Alapaha 545 and Immokalee 353; former lodges in Section S-4) will be merged before the end of the year. The new council's office is located in Valdosta.

- Further north, the five lodges of New York City have now been merged, to form Kintecoying Lodge 4, as of January 6,

- Wikiala Wipi Lodge 432 (Arizona) has become the first lodge to reach S-200. This is along with twelve twills and two woven flaps. Only 16 other lodges have made it to S-100.

- Roy More, owner of The Scout Patch Auction, is also the holder of the rights to "The Blue Book". He made a presentation at the Dallas Trade-O-Ree in January, to show his vision of "Blue Book 2.0", which promises to be more comprehensive than previous incarnations, but will also result in re-numbering issues, in order to correct past errors. So there may soon be a new numbering system to track issues.

> NOAC 2015, the 100th Anniversary OA Conference, will be returning to Michigan State University. This will also be the first time since 1950 that NOAC will be at the same location for two consecutive events. And even though it is over 2 1/2 years off, Cowikee Lodge 224 has issued the first NOAC 2015 flap (fundraiser).
